He also was dismissed from the medical staff of Lancaster - Fairfield Hospital, resigned as coroner and was expelled by the Fairfield County Medical Society.

House Gets Bill To Protect FBI

WASHINGTON (AP)—House leaders expected swift passage today of a bill sponsors say is needed to protect secret FBI files from indiscriminate rummaging. The Senate passed the disputed bill by voice vote Monday night.

The bill stems from a June 3 decision by the Supreme Court that Clinton Jencks, a former union official, had a right to examine material in FBI files furnished by witnesses who testified against him, so the defense might try to impeach their testimony.

Jencks had been convicted of swearing falsely that he was not a Communist. The Supreme Court ordered a new trial.

House Passes Compromise Rights Bill

Measure Is Handed To Senate; Debate There May Be Long

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House today passed a compromise civil rights bill and sent it to the Senate. Congressional action there is expected to be completed later in the week.

The rollcall vote on House passage was 278-97.

House action was taken over bitter-end opposition of Southerners, who denounced the bill as "judicial blackmail" and "a political sop to a highly-organized minority group."

The bill now is in the hands of the Senate where some Southerners were holding out for a filibuster against the compromise.

Sen. Russell (D - Ga) said he couldn't forecast what might happen. He indicated it would be up to individuals.

"There is a lot of opposition to this compromise, which really wipes out the jury trial amendment," he said. "There will be some long speeches against it."

He said it was possible that even if no filibuster develops the Senate may not get to vote on the bill this week.

Congressional leaders have been pointing toward adjournment by this weekend.

THOUGH FALLING short of President Eisenhower's original program, the bipartisan compromise was clearly the best he could expect. It centered on a Senate provision guaranteeing defendants the right of jury trial in cases of criminal contempt of court.

As originally proposed by the administration, the bill would have empowered the attorney general to apply for court injunctions to protect civil rights in general. Persons who violated such injunctions could have been jailed by federal judges for contempt of court.

Claw-Cramps and No Cracker-Break

1-Eyed Parrot-Artist Exposed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The jig is up for Rajah, the one-eyed parrot who dabbles in art.

He was unmasked Monday after his ninth showing at a city-sponsored art exhibit. An anonymous telephone tipster said his paintings were not only for the birds, but by one.

"A parrot?" exclaimed officials, many of whom had acclaimed Rajah's abstract oil.

She began by giving Rajah a "Cathay Laos," as the work of a promising artist.

"A parrot," said confirmed Rajah's owner, Miss Chandra Poweris, a writer and illustrator. She had entered the bird's painting under the name, "Rajah Chandra."

"Now that people know Rajah isn't human he won't be able to exhibit at art shows," said Miss Poweris, who has supervised the parrot's three-year art career.

She began by giving Rajah a first-hand appreciation of the masters.

"I'd put him in my handbag and sneak him into museums to see famous paintings," she said.

At a recent Van Gogh exhibit the Asian-bred dwarf parrot peeked out of the bag and began muttering in Chinese, Miss Poweris said, "So we left quickly."

"Other times he'd just look and absorb," she added.

When painting, Rajah holds the brush in a claw and squirts

Special Jury Session Called

23 Cases Ready For Hearing

The Pickaway County Grand Jury will be called into special session Sept. 9, Common Pleas Judge William Ammer announced today.

Judge Ammer said the special session was being called because of the large number of cases bound to the jury since the last session in May. He added that many of the persons involved in the cases have been confined in the county jail causing crowded conditions there.

Approximately 23 cases await the jury's action. They include alleged offenses of bigamy, burglary, forgery, shooting with intent to kill, car theft, and operating a motor vehicle under the influence of intoxicants.

2 Michigan Youths Survive Plunge Over Hiawatha's Famous Waterfall

DETROIT (AP)—A 14-year-old Detroit girl and her 23-year-old brother today told how they tumbled head-over-heels over Michigan's famed Tahquamenon Falls Sunday and landed safely.

Dick Robins and his sister, Doris, upon their return home Monday night, said they not only plunged over the upper Michigan falls which Longfellow immortalized in his "Song of Hiawatha," but climbed to the top afterward and a second time waded across the Tahquamenon River.

Lifetime residents at Newberry, Mich., near the falls which throngs of tourists visit every year, said not since the legend of Hiawatha's friend, Kwasind, have they heard of anyone surviving a plunge over the torrent of water.

Kwasind, the legend says, survived the plunge while chasing a bear.

The brother and sister, vacationing, said they had crossed through a foot passage under the lip of the falls and climbed to the top by a wooden staircase.

"A couple of fishermen sitting on the bank told us we could wade back across the rapids above the falls," said Robins. "I guess we didn't go far enough upstream."

"We started across about 100 feet above the brink. About 10 feet from shore, with the water up to our knees, it suddenly just pulled us off our feet."

Doris said, "we were holding hands all the time. I didn't really know what was happening. We were falling sideways and holding hands. It felt very comfortable."

"As we came to the brink," said Robins, "I looked over at Doris and said, 'Goodbye, kid.' Then it just took us over. We weren't scared until it was all over."

"When we hit the bottom, there was a strong eddy current like an undertow. I kept pushing Doris toward the surface. Luckily, we're both good swimmers, and when we got out of the currents we swam ashore." The falls is 100 feet wide.

Art Lenore, a caretaker of the Tahquamenon Falls State Park, said witnesses told him the two plunged into a pool at the foot of the falls at the only place not cluttered with jagged rocks.

Dulles Avoids 'Phony' Label On Missile

Intercontinental Rocket Said Successful in Tests by Russians

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today Russia's claim of having successfully tested an intercontinental rocket missile probably has some facts behind it. He said this shows the United States faces a formidable threat.

The Soviet announcement said its new missile is capable of hitting "any spot on the globe." And in discussing Russia's claim Dulles avoided any direct suggestion that the announcement was phony.

On the contrary he said the United States has no independent means of checking what the Soviets claim but assumes that in announcements of this kind there are some facts underlying the statements.

Exactly what these statements mean, however, Dulles said, is another question. For example, he added the Moscow announcement said the missile hit the target area but did not describe that area. Dulles said it would make a great difference whether the target was the size of a room or several hundred square miles.

New Flu Said Not Serious

U.S. Surgeon Tags Epidemic 'Probable'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney said today that if you get Asian flu off than won't be any worse off than with many an everyday sickness.

"Even if an epidemic should develop," the head of the U. S. Public Health Service said, "if present trends continue, the 10 to 20 per cent of the people who might contract Asian influenza would have a relatively mild illness, with symptoms which are commonplace accompaniments of many everyday illnesses."

Burney's comment was contained in a speech for a special meeting of the Association of State and Territorial Health Officers of the United States. Burney called the meeting to discuss what could be done to reduce the amount of illness caused by the new flu virus.

But the Ohio Building and Construction Trades Council, with a claimed membership of 87,000 Ohio construction workers, served notice it will formally ask withdrawal from the AFL-CIO.

Wheat Acreage Reserve Papers Available at ASC Tomorrow

Beginning tomorrow, eligible farmers who wish to participate in the 1958 winter wheat acreage reserve program may sign agreements at the County ASC Office, Luther List, chairman of the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced today. The sign-up period for the winter wheat program extends to October 4 of this year.

Rates of payment for individual farms will vary up and down from a county average rate per acre according to the relative productivity of the farms and other factors.

Farmers who are eligible to sign 1958 acreage reserve agreements for winter wheat are those who have "old farm" wheat acreage allotments for 1958 and who normally grow winter wheat.

List explained that under the 1958 program, each producer will be responsible for furnishing the county ASC Committee with the production history and other information needed to establish a "soil bank base" for his farm, and this must be done before the agreement may be signed.

THE "BASE" will be determined primarily on the basis of the average acreage of land devoted to soil bank base crops during 1956 and 1957. The base crops, in general, are all crops produced for harvest on a farm, except hay crops. If a farm already has a "base" established under the soil bank conservation reserve program, that base will apply.

Farmers who earn payments under the 1958 wheat acreage reserve program must reduce their wheat acreage below the farm's wheat allotment, must comply with other allotments set for crops on their farm, and must not harvest more total acreage than the "permitted acreage"—which in general is the soil bank base less the number of acres put in the soil bank.

Red Reject Weapons Ban

LONDON (AP)—Russia today rejected the West's terms for a two-year ban on nuclear weapon tests and for a global system of sky and ground inspection against surprise attack.

Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin told the five-power subcommittee of the U. N. Disarmament Commission that the five-month negotiations for an agreement to halt the world arms race has reached a "state of deadlock."

Zorin's long statement blasting Western disarmament policies was the fiercest he has yet made in the negotiations and it suggested that the Soviets are ready to call off the talks.

Joint School Meet Tomorrow

A joint meeting of the Pickaway County and Washington Twp. boards of education will be held tomorrow night.

The meeting at which the boards will discuss the county board's recent order consolidating the Washington, Pickaway and Saltcreek Twp. school districts, will be held in the county superintendent's offices in the courthouse at 8 p. m.

Stoutsville Man Loses License

Fred Greeno, 18, Stoutsville, appeared today in Circleville Municipal Court on an accusation of driving under the influence of intoxicants.

Receiving the usual penalty for intoxicated driving, Greeno was fined $100 and costs, sentenced three days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for six months. He was arrested by the sheriff's department.

Hong Kong Paper Raps U.S. Ban on Commies

HONG KONG (AP)—The Hong Kong Daily Mail said today American rejection of a Communist Chinese proposal for an exchange of news correspondents was "alarmingly unreasonable" and "reminiscent of Molotov at his wooden worst."

The Daily Mail, along with two other English language papers, said the United States would have nothing to lose by letting Red Chinese reporters into the U. S.

Maybe a Race Still Possible For AL Pennant

Yankees Looking Bad, Old Case Nervous as Chisox Series Looms

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Maybe there is going to be a race in the American League after all. The New York Yankees look bad and Manager Casey Stengel looks nervous.

Faced by a three-game showdown against the Chicago White Sox opening tonight in Comiskey Park, Ol' Case played a hunch and came off second best in Detroit Monday as the Tigers cracked the Yankees 5-2 and whittled their lead to 3. games. It was New York's fifth defeat in seven games.

Which means the second-place White Sox, who have won six straight, can edge within three percentage points of the champs—if they can sweep the three-game set.

Only one other AL game was scheduled Monday and as far as the A's are concerned it shuddered in Kansas City. Boston bopped 'em 16-0.

In the National, Milwaukee's Braves slipped to a seven-game edge over idle St. Louis and Brooklyn in a 4-3 defeat at Philadelphia. That gave the Phils sole possession of fourth place as the New York Giants clubbed Cincinnati to fifth 17-3.

Stengel, with pitching worries aplenty, started southpaw Tommy Byrne against the Tigers. But when the veteran hit a batter, walked another, gave up a home run to slugging Al Kaline and walked the next man, Casey called it quits and called in young Johnny Kucks in the first.

Kucks did all right, giving up two runs on six hits the rest of the way, but it was too late. After Frank Lary gave up Mickey Mantle's two-run 33rd homer in the first, the Tiger right-hander blanked the Yanks on seven hits.

Casey gambled in using Kucks, and not waiting out the usually wild Byrne, and lost a starter for the Chicago series.

Kaline's homer was his 17th—third in the two-game Detroit sweep—and helped push him to .300 for the first time since June. Mantle's average also went up, but at .377 he stayed two points back of Boston's Ted Williams, who was 2-for-4 for 379.

The Phillies blew a 3-0 lead before beating the Braves on Ron

Giambra Praises Calhoun's Ability

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Anyone wanting to know how tough midweight Rory Calhoun is should ask Joey Giambra.

"Calhoun's the toughest in the middleweight division," the handsome Giambra said after taking a 10-round beating from the White Plains, N. Y. Negro Monday night. "He takes a good punch and hits hard. And that's what makes a champion."

Calhoun, 22, ranked fifth in his division, a step below Giambra, started slow but caught up in the fourth round. All three judges voted for him.

Sooners To Lack Speed of 1956

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Bud Wilkinson says his Oklahoma University football team will be sound this year but won't match last year's national champions because of the loss of speed.

Wilkinson said he isn't worried about the pressure built up by 40 straight football victories. The 41-year-old mentor said:

"We have no greater problem than many other schools that lost half their teams. We haven't lost everyone but those with speed that made our team great are gone."

Northey's pinch as-loaded single in the ninth. Ed Mathews' two-run single had tied it for Milwaukee in the eighth and when Wes Covington and Bob Hazle singled to open the ninth, 16-game winner Jack Sanford hit the show-off. Dick Farrell relieved and retired the side for his sixth victory. Ernie Johnson lost it in relief.

Boston rapped six home runs, two by Frank Malzone, and bunched four of them in a 10-run seventh inning. Willard Nixon claimed his first shutout in more than a year with a five-hit while the Red Sox smacked 19.

The Giants also had 19 hits, but only two homers — by Danny O'Connell and Hank Sauer. The Redlegs, losing 13 of 14, had 13 hits for a two-team total of 32, a season high for a nine-inning game in the NL.

Deflation Talk Going Rounds These Days

Business News Expert
Analyzes New Trends
Behind Discussion

Editor's Note: Talk of deflation is spreading from Wall Street to Main Street. So far it's just talk. It hasn't touched the family budget yet. But some industries already live with it intimately. Sam Dawson, Associated Press business news analyst, discusses the talk and the business trends that gave birth to it in a two-part series starting today.

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (P)—The steam in the inflation boiler isn't thumping as loudly. More talk is heard today of the chance that deflation may be ahead.

True, official statements will stress the threat of more inflation. Prices of many goods and services seem sure to go on rising. Most people have jobs and more money than last year—and maybe more debt too.

But on the psychological front both businessmen and stock market traders are paying more heed to the scattered signs of industrial slowdown and of cautious or reluctant buying.

And when prices of some commodities fall or price cutting breaks out on consumer goods here and there much more notice is being taken than just a few weeks back.

What does it add up to? So far, the trends are more of a possibility than of a fact. Few want to stick their necks out yet. But even some top government officials are now saying we may have hit the peak—in interest rates, in production facility expansion, in national income.

The long climb of the postwar business boom may have taken it to level ground—very high ground indeed but a ridge road rather than an ascending speedway.

Then the professionals either took to the sidelines or started selling in the notion, right or wrong, that the fall business pickup would be small or nonexistent. The bond market was in a slump while the inflation theory was rampant. Then the head of the Federal Reserve opined that interest rates might have hit their peak, might even come down a peg or two. Bonds looked better and buying rallied their prices.

The chiefs of the New York and Cleveland districts of the Federal Reserve kept their mouths closed but for two weeks signalled like bridge players that they thought an increase to the discount rate to discourage more inflation might be mistimed. When higher interest rates elsewhere drained their funds, they swung into line with the higher rates.

The Federal Reserve's top man in Washington told senators a trend is developing—toward more saving and less spending on the part of both consumers and business. More spending would feed

NEW AUTO — This is the Edsel, Ford Motor Company's newest entry in the medium price car field, available in 18 models in four series — Ranger, Pacer, Corsair and Citation. The entire line will go on display in all Edsel dealerships Sept. 4. Shown is the Pacer four-door hardtop. From its vertical grille, dual headlights and wraparound turn indicators through the single chrome side spear and concave sculptured "teardrop" side scallop, the Edsel gives an impression of motion even when parked. In addition to its dramatic styling, the Edsel offers a wide range of exclusive engineering features including "Teletouch" push button automatic transmission controls located in the steering wheel hub.

New Edsel Announced by Ford Motor Company

A new vertical front styling theme and several engineering innovations that include "Teletouch" push button transmission controls located in the steering wheel hub are features of America's newest automobile — the Edsel.

Under actual development since July of 1954, mechanical and engineering prototypes of the Edsel have been driven more than 1,500,000 miles in one of the most thorough and comprehensive test programs ever undertaken by a manufacturer.

The car will be publicly introduced in dealer showrooms on Wednesday, Sept. 4.

Available in 18 models and four series — Ranger, Pacer, Corsair and Citation — the Edsel medium price car line offers two convertibles, sedans, two-door and four-door hardtops and five station wagons. One convertible is available in the Pacer series and the other in the Citation, at the top of the line.

Dual headlights, self-adjusting brakes which automatically compensate for brake lining wear, safety rim wheels and four barrel carburetion are standard equipment with all Edsels. Also standard inflationary fires. More saving will help quench them.

The outgoing undersecretary of the treasury reported signs that the tight money policy was finally working. The big business expansion boom that the money manager credits with setting off the latest inflation seems to be falling prey to tired blood.

Big city bankers joined the chorus. The First National City Bank of New York, the nation's second largest, reported businessmen currently guided in their ordering by the chance of falling prices than of rising ones.

Chicago's Northern Trust Co. noted that consumer spending is being influenced adversely by reluctance to pay higher prices. It points out that in numerous instances increases in wage rates are being offset by a cut in the length of the work week.

Speeding Mother Gets Blood Pledge

HOUSTON, Tex. (P)—Mrs. Hatti Hill went to court Monday on a speeding charge and left with promises of blood for her ill daughter.

She told Judge Sam Wisenthal she was on her way to the hospital July 4 when given a speeding ticket.

"I spend almost 24 hours a day there with my daughter, Edith Ann," she said.

She said her daughter, 11, became ill in June. "Two doctors found she had tumors that were stopping blood circulation," Mrs. Hill said.

The judge dismissed the speeding charge and volunteered to donate blood for the child, who has needed several transfusions.

1935 Murder Probe Revived

Unsigned Letter Alerts
Police Near Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (P)—Norwood police have started a new investigation of an unsolved murder that occurred 22 years ago.

Police Chief Charles Fritz said the investigation, centered in Catlettsburg, Ky., is based on receipt of an unsigned letter in which the writer related that he killed Augustus O. Kirschner, an Ohio River boat captain, in his home in Norwood on Oct. 25, 1935.

Fritz said the letter, postmarked at Catlettsburg and dated Aug. 22, said:

"No doubt you will be surprised to hear from me, though I wish to inform you that I committed a murder there 22 years ago and I wish to get it off my mind."

"On Oct. 25, 1935 I shot and killed a man by the name of Kirschner who was entering his home with his wife and baby while burglarizing his home."

"Shortly thereafter a boat was sunk with the whistle blowing and it was a mystery. Has it ever been solved or is an innocent man serving time for it."

Chief Fritz recalled that Kirschner's boat "The Ben Franklin," burned and sank in the Ohio River about six weeks after the slaying of Kirschner.

Fritz sent detectives Lee Kiley and Clifford Wolf to Catlettsburg today in an effort to trace the letter writer. Both worked on the case when Kirschner was killed.

"The investigation will be reopened," Fritz said. "There is no question of that. Maybe the killer will get a certain relief from writing the letter and have no desire

How many of you older Pickaway County Residents remember the Merchants on the south side of Main Street fifty years ago. Those were the days of the beginning of the Pumpkin Show, the muddy gravel streets, the horse and buggy, the blacksmith shop and the five cent Soda. There are only four business firms still in business and Mr. Fred Brunner is the only individual still there. For fifty cents you could take your girl to a picture show and go down to Harry Plematis and have a Banana Split and have a dime left. They call those "The good old days."

I was with my Father, who operated the Yates Hardware Co. We sold items that cannot be found to-day. Buggies, Harness, Buggy Storm Fronts and Charcoal Heaters, Sleighs, Rubber tiring for Buggies, Horseshoes, Buffalo, Bear and Horsehide Robes, just to mention a few. You could buy an End Spring Buggy for $85.00 but if you wanted the best you bought a Columbus Buggy Phaeton for $165.00

I am proud to say that we still have over fifty of those customers who either they or their father or their grandfather purchased merchandise from us then. This can only be possible because we had good merchandise at the right price and backed it up with the best service.

This is just as true to-day. We still have those old customers; we still have a fine product in Buick and we still back it up with the best Service. Just ask any of our Customers. We are proud of the reputation we enjoy for fair dealings.

Canada Cuts Immigration Influx

The new Conservative government in Canada has made one decisive reversal already of past policy. It has announced a sharp curtailment of the massive immigration encouraged by the previous Liberal government.

Immigrants, except from Britain, France and the United States, are not to be admitted unless they have arranged employment for themselves in advance, or are sponsored by Canadian citizens, or have close relatives in Canada.

The main reason for the move seems to be Conservative worries about a tight labor situation, aggravated by the wheat glut's effect on employment in the prairie provinces, and by a recent timber industry lay-off in British Columbia.

The previous Liberal government had opened Canada's doors wider than ever after being criticized by the Conservatives in the Canadian Parliament. The Liberals now contend that this shows an inconsistency on the part of the Conservatives.

The significance of the Canadian action is that it marks a major change in attitude. Previously immigrants had been welcomed on the theory that Canada's population could not gain too rapidly.

New Treatment for Stingray

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

There's a new first-aid treatment for stingray wounds.

The procedure, developed by three Galveston physicians, is simple and provides complete relief from pain, in most instances, in from 10 to 20 minutes.

Now I know that relatively few of you will become victims of stingrays. But these nasty creatures present a constant hazard to fishermen and sea bathers from the middle of July to early September. During July and August, particularly, stingrays come into shallow water.

Since stingray wounds are among the most excruciatingly painful that any animal can inflict upon man, I think it's a good idea for you vacationists to know how to treat them.

Drs. J. Fred Mullins, Charles J. Wilson and William C. Best recommend treating the wound by immersing it in ice water. Since the foot or ankle generally is the site of the wound, this is easy to do.

Temperature of the water should be about zero degrees centigrade. The foot or other extremity should be dunked until the wound is about six inches under the water.

Most cases require that the foot be submerged for about one and one-half hours. This is not a very comfortable method of halting pain, I admit.

For the first five minutes or so, there will be rather marked discomfort from the cold water. But the heat of your extremity soon will boost the temperature to about five degrees centigrade and, as a result, the pain from the wound is usually reduced considerably.

The Texas physicians say that neither ice packs nor moderate doses of opiates have given such satisfactory results as quickly as this immersion method.

It might be a good thing to remember.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The most powerful single feature in the civil rights bill—expected to be passed soon by Congress—was one which received little attention and caused almost no fighting.

It's the broad authority of a federal judge to force compliance with his orders under civil contempt proceedings. Most of the attention and fighting were concentrated on what he could do under criminal contempt.

But it's this writer's guess that criminal contempt will be used rarely in comparison with the times judges will rely on their civil contempt powers to force compliance with their orders in voting rights cases.

This is an example of what a judge could do to a man accused in a voting rights case—of civil contempt of court for not carrying out a court order.

Suppose a judge in a Southern state orders Registrar Jones to let a Negro named Smith register to vote. The deadline for voting comes near and Jones hasn't complied. Then the judge:

1. Could try Jones—by himself and without a jury trial—for civil contempt.

2. He could slap Jones in jail without any fixed sentence. Jones could be jailed until he sends word to the judge he will comply.

3. He could fine Jones up to any amount—there's no limit—to force his compliance. If Jones complied, the judge could then remit the fine.

4. He could fine Jones day by day, for every day he does not comply.

5. He could award damages to Smith. This would probably come out of the fine imposed on Jones. But in this case—once the damages were awarded—Jones wouldn't get his money back even if he complied.

6. He could ask Jones to file a large bond to insure his compliance. For example, he could set the bond at $50,000. If Jones got a company or an individual to put up the bond, the company or individual would be pressuring him to comply.

The reason is simple: If Jones didn't comply, the bond would be forfeited.

7. He could order a United States marshal to register Smith

if Jones didn't comply by registering the man himself.

8. Or he could order Smith to go ahead and vote without being registered. In this case, no doubt, Smith's vote might not be counted.

But most Southern states, like other states, have permanent registration.

So if Registrar Jones were from one of them — and disobeyed a court order to register Smith—under civil contempt proceedings he might have to stay in jail a long time.

It's possible now Southern states will change their laws to avoid such a situation by providing for a comparatively short registration period. That's a guess.

But they changed their school laws after the Supreme Court in 1954 ordered an end to racial segregation in public schools.

Yet, Southerners in Congress raised comparatively little fuss about the powers of a federal judge under civil contempt proceedings. In fact, they left his powers untouched, including his power to try and jail a man without a jury.

They made their big pitch on criminal contempt. A man is charged with criminal contempt after it is too late to comply with a court order. For instance,

Suppose Jones steadfastly refused to register Smith and election day came and passed with Smith unable to vote. Traditionally, in criminal contempt cases, just as in civil contempt, a judge could try and jail a man without a jury.

Southerners insisted that in criminal contempt cases there must be a jury. The Senate wrote that into the bill. But the House Republicans wouldn't buy it. So the bill was stalled in the House for weeks.

Now a compromise has been agreed to by House and Senate leaders and, when the bill is passed, this is what it will say: A judge can still try an individual for criminal contempt without a jury provided the penalty he imposes does not exceed 45 days in jail or a $300 fine.

If he wants a man to be punished more than that, the judge must let the case be tried by a jury. If found guilty of criminal contempt by a jury, the maximum penalty would be six months in jail and a $1,000 fine.

Firemen Strip To Fight Blaze

EUREKA, Calif. (AP) — Firemen from nearby Blue Lake answered a fire alarm only to find the mad river between them and the fire Monday.

But they mounted a portable pump on a stray raft and paddled across. Most of the firefighters had to abandon their clothes and swim the river.

One fireman remained behind to discourage peeping toms.

It took over three hours to put out the fire, which was burning logs and debris on a sand bar in the river.

The only injuries were sunburns.

Nationalism Is Now Rampant

By George Sokolsky

What is happening in Syria is a result of the aroused nationalism in Arabic countries which Soviet Russia did not foment but of which the Kremlin has taken full advantage. Nationalism has triumphed universally, the United States being the sole exception. Thus empires fall, countries are partitioned, colonies rise to independence, the earth is becoming more and more fragmented.

Already nationalism has destroyed the British, French and Dutch empires. Soviet Russia is stimulating nationalism while developing an empire, with what results we shall in due course see. The United States, which favors internationalism, suicidally, is so deeply committed to the cost in wealth and life of a permanent military establishment, that it will have to revert to nationalism to maintain the morale of its people. Flags will fly again on the Fourth of July.

Professor Hans J. Morgenthau defines the concept of nationalism as follows:

"The idea of nationalism, both in its historic origins and in the political functions it has performed, is intimately connected with the idea of freedom and shares the latter's ambiguity. Nationalism as a political phenomenon must be understood as the aspiration for two freedoms: one collective, the other individual: the freedom of a nation from domination by another nation and the freedom of the individual to join the nation of his choice."

This is a correct view of the subject, the danger, however, always being that those countries which become most nationalistic tend, in time, to conquer, repress, and subordinate their neighbors and set off on the route of imperialism. Thus, although it is not so many years since Dr. Sun Yat-sen described China as a semi-colony, Red China, once it regarded itself as established, conquered Tibet and an area of Burma and has been pressing upon all its neighbors. Tito has not followed this pattern, probably out of fear of Soviet Russia but within the Communist world, Titoism means not only nationalistic Communism but also the possibility of the danger of a grouping of anti-Russian Communist countries that might, in time, form a league or an association of states.

The monarchy was never really nationalistic. After all, kings and queens belonged to families not to nations and before most of them lost their thrones in Europe, they were cousins of one sort or another. The British Royal Family, which has survived all the revolutionary changes in Europe, now called the House of Windsor, descends from the German Electress, Sophia of Hanover who was herself a Stuart.

The two predecessor families of the House of Windsor were the House of Hanover and the House of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha. The Russian Royal Family was mostly German and Danish. Nicholas II of Russia and George V of Great Britain resembled each other closely.

In a word, nationalism developed outside the royal households and in due course, upset monarchies and established what have come to be called democracies. Napoleon destroyed some 200 dynastic sovereignties, because when these principalities and dukedoms could neither protect their boundaries nor maintain internal order, they ceased to be of any value. Whenever that happened, a nation appeared which either stood on its own feet because it could or which was absorbed by some other nation because it could not stand on its own feet.

This same process is going on in the areas which were once either parts or protectorates of European empires. The battle for Oman looked picturesque but really it was a reflex of Saudi Arabian nationalism, the stimulating effects of Egyptian nationalism, the stirring of Islam by Russian revolutionary tactics, the desire to find increasing national liberty by economic development on a national scale.

The Syrian people are now intensely nationalistic. But Syria, as it has before in history, became dependent upon Egypt which now has a working alliance with Soviet Russia after having freed itself from the overlordship of Great Britain. Syria has no strength to defend its boundaries. Therefore it moves as Egypt moves. The Syrian government not only cannot defend its own borders but cannot maintain order within those borders. So, it has been forced to capitulate to Russian imperialism as a response to internal challenges.

As Professor Morgenthau says:

"... Free nations had only one enemy, and he was common to all of them: the dynastic oppressor of their freedom, individual and collective."

Little League Title Series Opens Tonight

The first of a three-game series between Kiwanis and New Car Dealers to decide the city's Little League baseball championship will be played tonight at Ted Lewis Park.

Tonight's contest is slated for 7:30. The second game is scheduled tomorrow night at the same time. The third game, if needed, will be played Thursday night.

The championship playoff between the two top notch Little League squads also will feature a brother rivalry. David (Red) Crawford manages the Car Dealers and brother Kenney handles the Kiwanis nine.

The Carmen captured the first round of play but Kiwanis came back to take the second round. In two meetings this year Kiwanis was victorious both times, but Crawford is determined that his Car Dealers will even the score during the playoff.

Garold Dade probably will get the mound call tonight, with David Hannahs available for relief duty. Dick Kline or Gary Lagore are slated to get the nod for the Carmen.

Tigers Travel To Columbus

Circleville High's grid Tigers departed for Franklin Heights High School, Columbus, early this morning for an all-day practice session.

The CHS gridgers probably will drill as a unit during the morning with scrimmage work against the FH squad slated for the afternoon. After the first week of two-day drill as a unit during the morning Fairgrounds, the Tigers appear to be shaping up as a sound gridiron organization.

Although injuries have been light, several boys have been forced to the sidelines or light work. Lineman John Wright came up with a case of poison ivy and Bill Perkins has been hampered with an injured finger. Halfback candidate Ray Phifer presently is favoring a leg injury suffered during baseball season.

Gibson and Hard Risking Streak

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—Althea Gibson and Darlene Hard risked an amazing victory streak today in the finals of the National Doubles Tennis Tournament.

Althea, the 30-year-old Wimbledon queen from Harlem and her blonde partner from California never had lost a match together going into today's title match against 11-time winners Louise Brough and Mrs. Margaret Dupont at Longwood.

The Gibson-Hard streak, started at Orange, N. J., last year, encompasses 37 matches over nine tournaments and a Wightman Cup victory.

Thurman Recalled To Replace Bell

CINCINNATI (AP)—Bob Thurman is coming back from the minor leagues to fill in for outfielder Gus Bell, lost to the Cincinnati Redlegs for the rest of the season with a fractured foot bone.

Redleg officials reported the change Monday and said that pitcher Vincent Amor would be released on waivers to make room for Thurman. A player cannot be listed disabled after Aug. 1.

Bell's injury, first thought to be an ankle sprain, was detected by X-rays Monday. The fracture came in a sliding mishap at Pittsburgh last week.

Nicklaus Heads Field In National Amateur

CINCINNATI (AP)—Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, his national Jaycee championship only three days old, heads a field of 53 golfers who tee off today for six starting berths at the 1957 National Amateur tournament.

The crowd of aspirants, mainly from Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, seek to qualify in a 36-hole test at Camargo Country Club. The 6,676-yard course has a par 70.

Roman Catholic Directive Bans Sunday Work

3-State Area Gets Pastoral Letter Signed by Archbishop

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A restriction against non-essential Sunday work will become effective September 1 for Roman Catholics of Oregon, Idaho and Montana.

On that date a pastoral letter from Archbishop Edward D. Howard will be read at all masses in the three states, telling Catholics that they are not to work, keep their businesses open or shop on Sundays unless necessary for "the common good."

Such a letter is binding in conscience for Catholics, church officials said, and becomes a matter for confession.

The archbishop's letter was made public Saturday by the chancery office here. Also signing it were Bishops Francis P. Leitzig of Baker, Ore.; Joseph M. Gilmore of Helena, William J. Condon of Great Falls and James J. Byrne of Boise.

"The letter read, in part: 'Sunday is our weekly commemoration of the resurrection of Christ' and added that the church commands for Sunday observance: 'First, assisting at the Holy Mass; second, abstaining from unnecessary servile work.' Servile in Roman Catholic usage means physical work."

The letter said the only exceptions to the work ban will be for "business services which are so necessary for the common good that they may be rendered legitimately on Sunday."

Those working, it specified, must have a chance to attend mass.

The effect of competition on a businessman may not be considered a factor, the letter stipulated.

There may be appeals to confessors or parish priests "in particular cases where doubt arises," it said.

The office of Msgr. Thomas J. Tobin, vicar general of the archdiocese, said the new definition of the Catholic attitude is the result of recent moves to eliminate abuses of Sunday and developed from a provincial council meeting held her some weeks ago.

Church in Kansas Gets Beer License

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — It's illegal to sell beer within 250 feet of a church or school in Wichita, but there is no state or city law against dispensing beer inside a church.

That ruling was given Monday by City Atty. Fred Aley after City Commissioner John Stevens said he had seen bingo games and beer drinking at a church affair.

License collector Frederick Denry said he had issued a beer license to the community center connected with St. Anthony's Roman Catholic Church.

Ex-Deputy Sheriff Gets Prison Term

DAYTON (AP) — Herschel Hawkins, 50, arrested in November while he was a deputy in the Montgomery County sheriff's office, was sentenced Monday in common pleas court to 1-7 years in Ohio Penitentiary for receiving and concealing stolen property. Police found two stolen sewing machines valued at $200 in his home.

"Mary Hawthorth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: We are married 15 years and have four happy children, two boys and two girls, ranging in ages from three to 11 years. I am writing for guidance as regards the eldest—I'll call her Ellen—who has an IQ of 157, her teacher tells us.

Ellen is absent-minded, rather highly strung, tender-hearted and loving and has many friends. Emotionally she is a child of 11, physically a 13-year-old and mentally a young adult.

I feel that her intelligence is a gift and that it is my responsibility, as her mother, to help her develop it. Yet I am at a loss to know how to guide her; and private tuition we can't afford. I feel I am failing her sometimes.

My questions are: How can I help her face a future of being different? And to accept and be proud of that difference? How encourage her to the great things she is capable of? And yet let her see that if she wishes to be a homemaker and mother, we won't be disappointed in her?

When should she be told of her gift? In high school, college or never? (She already senses that she doesn't think like her friends). Where can such a girl find a suitable husband, one who can be happy with her and make her happy?

How to guide our other children, especially the boys, to accept their own worth as individuals—not to be compared detrimentally to their more talented sister? Do such gifted children as Ellen tend to grow away from their more ordinary parents and family, as they mature—and leave them behind, intellectually?

Finally, to whom should we look for guidance with her education? The public schools, in our small town, although good, are geared to the average child; and also are very overcrowded. I don't want to force her ahead in school beyond her years, simply because she is capable. Yet to leave her in her own age-group is making her bored and frustrated, without a challenge.

J. S.
DEAR J.S.: In a word, keep your shirt on. As of now, your excitement about Ellen's high IQ is more of a problem, in its "could-be" tax on her personality, than her gift of fine intelligence.

Basically, the greatly gifted child has precisely the same need as the less gifted child—namely, to be cordially loved and accepted "as is." That is to say, loved because he (or she) exists. This kind of security and support is the rich root-source of emotional poise and healthy growth towards the full flowering of one's native endowment.

It isn't particularly helpful to love a child with emphasis (even if unspoken) reference to this or that aspect of himself. For example, with pulsating pride as regards a special "superiority," and with anxiety for the right cultivation thereof. Or conversely, with poignant sympathy as regards some presumed handicap—say, a speech impediment, or a crippled limb, or the like.

Superior intelligence, being an uncommon attribute, tends of itself to put a certain distance between the person thus equipped, and the social majority of lesser IQs.

Don't make so much (in your mind) of her high IQ. Don't construe it as "setting her apart" from family, classmates or your economic circumstances.

However, do nourish her intellectual curiosity, by being mentally companionable, in so far as you can—just as you would nourish any healthy appetite in a child. Answer her questions. Share her speculations if you don't know the learned answers. And share her enthusiasm for favorite subjects—in the role of listener, if you can't be a tutor.

With your affectionate backing, let her more or less find her own way towards the educational jungle, towards true enlightenment and the society of "her own kind."

M. H.

First Mexican Natural Gas for U.S. Cities

On August 22, a group of men gathered at Reynosa, Mexico, just across the Rio Grande from McAllen, Texas. A brief ceremony was held, and a valve was opened, starting the first major importation of natural gas from Mexico.

Soon, this gas will be heating homes and serving industry in a dozen or more Midwestern, Appalachian and Eastern Seaboard states. The gas will come from large fields in Northern Mexico tapped by Petroleos Mexicanos (Pemex).

Daily, some 115 million cubic feet of Mexican gas will move north through Texas Eastern's 5900-mile pipeline system . . . and (via facilities of the company's local client firms) into homes and plants as far north as New England.

By joining in utilizing this great natural resource, Texas Eastern and Pemex are making a signal contribution to the economies of both Mexico and the United States.

Through the sale of this gas, Pemex will receive an annual revenue of almost $6,000,000 — initially. As the volume of deliveries goes up, so will the revenues.

Texas Eastern, through its 20-year Pemex contract, can assure its customers continuing and increasing supplies of natural gas. This in turn means that greater quantities of this clean, dependable and economical fuel can be made available to homes and industries in Midwestern, Appalachian and Eastern Seaboard States.
